

5 Secrets to an AWESOME wedding!

1. Believe it or not....

- There will be people from 7 to 70 years old with different musical tastes and all of your guests may not know each other. If you want everyone to have a good time (and not a weird time)- make sure to have a variety of songs from different decades and genres. Don't worry! I've DJed plenty weddings and can read your crowd to know when and how to mix these songs appropriately. We will talk about it during our first meeting!

2. Because eating is fun, right?

- A lot of your guests will have traveled or had long days (including you and your wedding party) so keep things lively as much as possible. After a calm ceremony and eating dinner... it may feel like time for a nap. I'll be sure to keep some fun and light-hearted energy in the room during dinner so everyone knows the party will keep escalating!

The bar is a friend to dancing!

3. Especially around drink number 3

- Plan to have your bar near the dance floor so that people don't have to leave the party or wander through tables to get to the bar. If the bar is practically on the dance floor - your guests will be, well... on the dance floor all night :)

4. Don't let your toasts get burned!

- Toasts are definitely significant, special, and sometimes sappy - and all of that is awesome to help create a range of emotions in the evening. I would advise to plan who is saying a few words and not have an open floor for anyone to speak. This can eat up 15-20 minutes of your night EASILY. Long winded toasts are better at the rehearsal dinner. Your guests will stop listening and become chatty if they get bored. It's 2018. Attention spans are limited.

5. One more song!

- All of the planning (vendor searching, e-mails, coordinating, etc.) will culminate with a once in a lifetime party that will be here before you know it! Make sure everything you have put into the night is exactly what you want. Cutting corners will let you down in the long run.

All of your and your fiance's closest friends and family will be there. At the end of the day - people remember things because of experiences and emotions. Throw the party you deserve.

If you follow these tips - chances are you may want to keep the party going longer than expected! Make sure to check with all appropriate vendors about their policy on going over longer.

You get FIVE hours with me right from the start... but I can stay longer if you want :)
